Methods and Directions

Ceylon! On Ice

Iced Tea

- Mix well and let rest for 24 hours in the fridge. Strain using a coffee filter or cheese cloth and cover. Keep refrigerated.

100 Day Ginger & Honey Syrup

- Scrape the outside of the ginger and cut or blitz in to small pieces.
- Fill a 5 liter mason jar with the ginger and top up with the honey.
- Leave the jar in room temperature long enough for the ginger to seep out its liquid; about 100 days should do it.
- When the honey and ginger liquid are mixed naturally, strain the liquid from the rest.
- If necessary, add a bit of water and bring to a simmer to create a thick yet flowing syrup.

Orange Bitters and Orange Peel Garnish

- Use a potato peeler to peel a long strip of the orange, cut into shape en turn and twist to extract flavor from the oils in the orange peel.
- Give your tea a dash of bitters and finish off with the orange garnish.

Assembling

- Take a tall glass and fill up three quarters with ice cubes.
- Add the ginger and honey syrup.
- Pour in the Ceylon iced tea.
- Finish with a dash of orange bitters, give it a swirl and let the orange peel garnish float on top.
