Methods and Directions

Hot Smoked Earl Grey Rainbow Trout with roasted beet root, orange mayonnaise and tea marbled quail egg

Earl Grey smoked rainbow trout

- Combine the rice, brown sugar, tea, orange peel and star anise in a bowl.
- Line a large wok or pan with aluminium foil and place over a high heat.
- Add the tea smoking mix to the pan.
- Season the rainbow trout fillets and place skin side down on a greased rack to fit inside the pan.
- Once the mixture starts to smoke, place the rack of fish inside the pan and cover tightly with aluminium foil.
- Turn off the heat and allow to cool, the trout should be cooked within 1/2 hour.

Roasted beetroot

- Clean the beetroot but do not peel.
- Mix with the remaining ingredients and pour into a roasting tray.
- Cover with foil and roast at 200°C for approx 1/2 hour or until tender.
- Peel the skins whilst warm.

Tea marbled quail egg

- Place the quail eggs in a pan of cold water and bring to boil.
- Take off the heat and cover for 1 1/2 minutes.
- Cool under running cold water.
- Gently tap the shells with a spoon to create a crazed effect all over the surface.
- Place the eggs back in the pan with the remaining ingredients and top up with just enough water to cover the eggs.
- Simmer for 2 minutes.
- Cool the eggs in the liquid and store in the fridge for 2 days before peeling.

Earl Grey infused orange mayonnaise

- In a pan bring the orange juice to boil and remove from the heat. Infuse with the tea for 3 minutes.
- Strain the juice back on the pan and reduce to 20ml.
- Make a mayonnaise with the remaining ingredients and add the tea infused juice and seasoning to taste.
